

FRESH FLUSH BLUSH: ■■■■■■■■■■■■

Blush is an often overlooked cosmetic, unless you're one of the brave few delicately going for a back-from-the-dead (currently on-trend) goth look(!) For a fresh-from-the-counterside, good-colour pink flush, try one of these three ever-so-piety, cute choices. Maximum impact for minimum effort – just dab onto your cheek apples, blends & goes!

DIOR
Pro Cosmetics Ultra-Powdery Blush £19.50
02072160216

A gorgeous, luxurious treat to use! It's long-lasting and suits everyone, especially olive toned preferences. Definitely one to strut your stirring stuff in!

STILA
Plenty! Rouge Pot ELIS High-cream £15

A very striking, stand-out shade that particularly suits either pale & retreating skin – pop it on & bring out your inner Aunt Sally – or beautiful dark black skins.

MAYBELLINE
Daily Pink Dream! Mousse Blush, £5.99 nationwide

A widely available, total bargain, this gives good glow! It can be worn by all skins, but the dewy texture's best for normal/dry types.

BLISSFUL BEAUTIFYING BALMS & OILS ■■■■■■■■■■■■

When it comes to cosmetics, though creams have traditionally been de rigueur, balms & oils also offer a multitude of beautifying benefits. They're a real treat – so sensual and relaxing, an added bonus being that they contain high percentages of natural ingredients and need less (controversial) preservatives than other formulas. Oils have such synergy and affinity with skin, helping it balance & rehydrate, and contrary to popular belief, suit all skin types, even oily. They're perfect for atching with that special someone too. Beauty balms are brilliant – a perfect foil for the freezing winter climate! The following pampering products are guaranteed to help make your Mother's Day even more memorable – enjoy!

THE TRIPOLLAR REATMENT life day and age when "going over the hilt" is a relatively common aspect of some women's self-esteem. It is reassuring to reveal that there is a treatment that involves no risks and promises to achieve the effect you'd like.

skin that has persistent, early start with just two sessions – Micro and Micro under supervision of dermatologists and medical doctor Heather Wray. Unlike other treatments, the Micro and Micro treatments are safe for all skin types and believe to be effective. colts first applied some gel to my ear and neck, in order to allow a technology to move smoothly across my face. She then begins a treatment by rubbing the gel over my face. The technology gradually warms up, but not so that it gets uncomfortable. After the one-on-one side of my face Micros starts but the differences are obvious – like the "taughtier fine" around my mouth appearing lighter and smoother. She concludes the Micros for the other side of my face, taking around 45 minutes for the entire treatment. When I expected there to be skin differences just after one session, but as I left the clinic my eye did feel a little fresher and tighter. If I feel the this after the one short treatment, then longer treatments are certain to do much enhanced, visible results.

WESTROW INTRODUCES A NEW KIND OF BRAZILIAN TO YORKSHIRE!

by Cassie Wray

Outside the capital, the new Brazilian Keratin Treatment – also referred to as a permanent blow dry – is exclusive to the high quality Westrow Hairdressing Salon Group. This service is suitable for most hair types and textures, but is especially beneficial for frizzy, dryer, chemically processed hair types, leaving it much more manageable. The treatment formula used by Westrow is more natural than any other permanent blow dry product formula that contains (controversial) formaldehyde. Unlike many other nourishing treatments, the permanent blow dry is said to last for up to four months.

The hair is washed, blow dried and then the treatment is applied, followed by another blow dry and finally straightened leaving my locks lustrous and radiant! The treatment took one and a half hours, but can take longer on thicker and/or longer hair. I was told my hair had to be left unwashed and kept dry for four days and on the fourth day a follow up salon blow dry is recommended in order to obtain the best results.

There has been an enthusiastic uptake of this revolutionary hair treatment by both existing and new Westrow clients. Amidst the chaos and discord of the money meltdown we all deserve more calm. TLC and I highly recommend the very good value Brazilian Keratin treatment; experience it and say hello to healthier, happy hair!

Appointments are taken on consultation. A complimentary consultation is required to determine whether the hair is suitable for the treatment.
